4. We are going to do the next task. This is a text about a popular man.

Text " A man of the movies"

One of the leading pioneers of the film industry was neither an actor nor a director. Rather, he was a commercial artist who eventually created such popular and familiar cartoon characters as Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck. The man, of course, was Walter Disney.

Disney did not start out as a rich man; but he did have a wealth of ideas, which reflected his greatest assets- traits of imagination and creativity. Walter Disney began his career when he succeeded in borrowing three hundred dollars to set up a workshop in the rear of a small garage. Working long and hard, he managed to gain a respected reputation as a gifted cartoonist.

In 1920, while living in Kansas City, Missouri, he was lucky and got his first chance to work on a motion- picture cartoon. The result was successful and in 1923 he moved on to Hollywood where financial success ultimately permitted him to develop his talents and interests.

Soon, he was producing feature- length animated cartoons, movies, and television shows. Some of Walt Disney's most popular efforts are regarded as classics today. These include Fantasia and Snow White. He also produced nature documentaries and adventure films. In 1932 Walt Disney got his first Oscar for his Mickey Mouse.

Although Walter Disney died in 1966, his creative genius and active mind still survive through the entertainment that he left as his legacy. His cartoons and full feature films forever commemorated his name. All in all Walter Disney got 29 Oscars.
